Tips for Lowering Your Auto Insurance

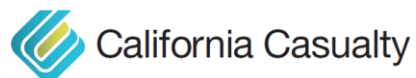

These days, every dollar counts. If you're looking to trim your auto insurance budget, you can save money by making a few changes.

Here are tips from the Insurance Information Network.

- Consider raising your deductibles for physical damage coverage.
- Ask about discounts that are available.
- Consider dropping physical damage coverage on older vehicles.
- Shopping for a new vehicle? Check insurance costs before you settle on a particular make or model. To find which vehicles are safer, check the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety's web site at www.iihs.org.
